SONGS OF PROTEST

UMCG SUMMER MUSIC SERIES 2020

- August 9 – For What It's Worth: Stop, Hey, What's that Sound?
- August 16 – What's Goin' On
- August 23 – Ohio
- August 30 – A Change is Gonna Come

We are living once again in a time of protest and dissent in our country, and there is a long tradition of American protest songs. There is also a rich history of protest in Scripture, of striving towards greater social and economic justice. For this year's summer music series, we will feature four influential songs of protest, performed in our online services by a number of special musical guests. Our pastors will relate those songs to stories and lessons from scripture.

We're co-creators in Christ's ministry!

If you had to describe recent months in one word, what word would you choose? That was the "ice-breaker" used in a ministry meeting I attended recently. My response? "Challenging!" I was thinking of our worship planning team and how we've rallied together to become co-creators of online worship services, guided by God's Spirit through it all. Fact is, we've all been learning how to be the church differently, creatively, and effectively as we've faced a host of challenges thrown our way by Covid-19, economic recession, social, and political upheaval. I affirm that it's been challenging for us all.

In early March, before the pandemic came in full force, we pastors of the three United Methodist churches here in the Tri-Cities area started meeting weekly online to discuss ways we could better live into the connectional nature of our UMC calling and mission. For five months now, we've been getting better acquainted, and there's been a whole lot of talk about sharing online ministries among our churches. For example, Baker Memorial has offered a meaningful Bible study online. Batavia UMC has successfully hosted 5 Cups of Coffee, an online program that helps people get to know each other and discuss their faith in non-threatening ways.

Our sister churches have expressed interest in joining us online in our new Spirits & Studies discussion group. We've discussed occasional, joint online worship services. And there are plans for a united, monthly, online game or fellowship time for our youth groups.

Best of all, we've moved beyond talk to action. Debbie Sampiller, Director of Administrative Ministries, has reached out to assist the pastors and her counter-parts at Baker Memorial and Batavia UMC with administrative and financial resources, processes, and procedures. And this past week, I was thrilled to help lead an energizing online VBS program, "Knights of the North Castle," hosted by Baker Memorial. I send a huge "thank you" to their Shelly Steinbarger, Dir. of Children and Family Ministries, and her team for organizing this weeklong VBS and offering it to us for free! I also commend our own Ali Wetmore and Sharon Reed for their collaboration and support. It was a bright highlight of my week! Every morning our home was filled with the sounds of children's voices singing, sharing, praying, and laughing.

Have the past months been challenging for us? Certainly! But, at the same time, the challenges have provided us with the impetus and opportunities to try new ways of being the church and new ways of walking with the Lord—whether in worship, study, fellowship, or mission outreach. The challenges have been worth it and have laid a groundwork for new paths of ministry to come within the Tri-Cities area.

As we learned in VBS throughout the week, "Be strong in the Lord, and in the strength of his power!" (Ephesians 6:10)

Onward!

August 2 – Matthew 14:13-21 Pastor Rich preaches on life's *Bare Necessities!

Jesus and his disciples are interrupted in the evening by a crowd of hungry followers. The disciples argue to send them away! Instead, Jesus provides a simple meal from a few loaves of bread and fish. Even in our darkest hours and greatest fatigue, the Lord is with us, meeting our needs and giving us opportunities for ministry.

SONGS OF PROTEST

UMCG SUMMER MUSIC SERIES 2020

August 9 – For What It's Worth: Stop, Hey, What's that Sound?

Buffalo Springfield's song became a protest anthem often associated with the Vietnam War, but a very different protest influenced Still's lyrics. Scripture tells us to learn from the past – so how does this 1968 tune relate to today? Pastor Becky preaches. (Romans 15:4-5, 1 Corinthians 10:11-13)

August 16 – What's Goin' On

Marvin Gaye's version of What's Goin' On grows out of his reflections on Bloody Thursday, the Watts Riots, and stories his younger brother told about his 3-year tour in Vietnam. We'll reflect on the history and legacy of this song, comparing it to the prophecies of Amos & Jesus' lament over Jerusalem.

Pastor Lisa preaches What's Goin' On. (Amos 5:10-15, Matthew 23:37-49)

August 23 – Ohio

The song Ohio was written and composed by Neil Young in reaction to the Kent State Shootings on May 4, 1970, where four college students, protesting the Vietnam War, were shot and killed by the Ohio National Guard. Sung by Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, it was dubbed "the greatest protest on record." *Jesus joined their protest against wanton bloodshed against the innocent by the powerful.

Pastor Rich preaches. (Hosea 4:1-3, Luke 13: 31-35)

August 30 – A Change is Gonna Come

Sam Cooke wrote and sang this mournful, soulful, bluesy song in 1964 about hanging on to this hope, and it's hard much of the time. Today in our streets people continue to protest and hang on. Some change has come but not nearly enough. When the people of God were enslaved in Egypt for 400 years, could they dare to hope for a change? When the women went to the tomb on Easter morning, what could they dare to hope? Pastor Mary Gay preaches Keep Hope Alive! Title is borrowed from the Rev. Jesse Jackson. (Exodus 3:1-15, Mark 16:1-6)

*Lynskey, Dorian, "Neill Young's Ohio." The Guardian, May 6, 2010.

Outdoor Worship – coming in late August or early September – watch for details.

The Christian Tradition of the Love Feast

(Condensed from Wikipedia and other online sources by Pastor Lisa)

What is a love feast, and why would we have one?

The Love Feast is modeled on the meal, teachings, and Last Supper shared between Jesus and his first disciples on that first Maundy Thursday. The early house churches of our New Testament letters, and the Acts of the Apostles, reference how the early disciples would gather in homes for a meal, teaching, and testimony, and then shared bread and cup, “doing this in remembrance of me (Jesus).” In Acts, chapter 2, we read how the disciples would gather and share teachings, break bread, eating together and praising God,” Check out I Corinthians 11 to read of some problems with that! Early house churches continued this tradition, but sometime between 100 and 300 CE, as larger, more formal churches were established, the common meal and the Lord’s Supper got separated, and then the common meal eventually died out and is not mentioned as a regular, religious practice in churches. The focus of churches shifted to preaching, teaching and the Eucharist, or Holy Communion, the bread and juice blessed by clergy and shared by the congregation.

After the Protestant Reformation there was a move among some groups of Christians to try to return to the practices of the New Testament Church. The Moravians, led by Count Zinzendorf, adopted a form consisting of the sharing of a simple meal, and then testimonies or a devotional address were given and letters from missionaries read. John Wesley first experienced it among the Moravians in Savannah, Georgia, ten years later, and incorporated it into his practice and teachings. As Methodists immigrated to North America they made Love Feasts an important part of early American Methodism. Due to the lack of ordained ministers in America, the Love Feast took on a life of its own, practiced because clergy could only visit each area for communion three to four times a year.

Charles Wesley, John's brother, wrote this hymn "The Love-Feast," in 1740, as well as a few others for Love Feasts.

“Come and let us sweetly join Christ to praise in hymns divine;
Give we all, with one accord. Glory to our common Lord.
Hands and hearts and voices raise; Sing as in the ancient days;
Antedate the joys above, Celebrate the feast of love.”

On August 2, when we reflect on the text for the day from Matthew 14, the feeding of the 5,000, we will celebrate a Love Feast together, remembering how when two or three are gathered, Christ is among us. And, whenever we break bread and share the cup, Christ is there among us. We will bring to our worship observance our bread or breakfast or sweet roll and coffee, tea, milk or juice, and gather virtually to remember that Christ is still among us when we eat and praise and remember him, and Christ is especially present in the love we share together as we eat. Pastor Becky will share in words of blessing and remembrance, and then invite all of us watching to eat and drink whatever we have brought to our worship, together, in Christ’s love. Be sure to bring your food to your worship space at the beginning of the service, so you don’t have to leave in the middle to go get them!

Reading and Praying the Psalms for Summer

An Offering from the Adult Council

This summer, add to your personal devotions the active reading and praying of the Psalms, the book of the Bible, which perhaps expresses more than any other the full range of human emotions from anger to love and grief to sorrow. After reading each psalm, compose a prayer that captures the essence of the psalm as it speaks to you and use the prayer as a guide to your way forward in faith. Keep a log of your prayers and review it periodically to understand more fully the character of your prayer life.

Before you begin reading each day, prepare by clearing your mind of the distraction in your life so that you can focus totally on the Bible passage. Read silently or aloud with both mind and heart open to the message. When you finish, reflect on what you have read, on how it relates to other passages in the Bible, and on how it relates to your life. Share what you have read and your reactions with family, a “reading buddy,” or a reading or study group with whom you enjoy fellowship face-to-face, by telephone, or by e-mail, Facebook or other social media. Most importantly, pray to God in thanksgiving and supplication, and listen in silence for His voice.

Update #2 from the UMCG Health Team

The Health Team continues to meet weekly via Zoom. We conducted the Check-In Survey to assess where people are right now for the use of the pastors and Health Team. We received 178 responses to the survey, and results were emailed to the congregation. The survey showed among our respondents:

- 94% were able to access our online worship, and 79% had viewed it during the past 4 weeks.
- Suggestions for groups: Bible studies, prayer, hope and faith, fruits of the spirit, forgiveness, good communication techniques, political divisions in families, racism, and racism and homosexuality and the UMC.
- When people would feel most comfortable attending worship:
 - 46% as soon as possible following the state/NIC guidelines with masks, distancing, etc.
 - 63% (total) at least several months later, when we don't need masks, or when there is a vaccine.
- Respondents also indicated their primary concerns with being in the building.

Our Town Hall meeting was held via Zoom on Saturday, July 11, at 3:00 p.m., and 66 people participated from their computers, phones, and tablets. Jim Alderfer presented a thorough report on what the Health Team has been doing, including its mission. Their primary guide is the Northern Illinois Conference ReTurn Plan, available on the NIC website umcnic.org, in conjunction with the Restore Illinois Plan, the IDPH and CDC. He noted these key take-aways from the NIC ReTurn Plan:

- Churches are different than other public venues for a number of reasons.
- Significant changes to our routines will be required.
- Worship will not look like it did before, and we will not get what we want right away.
- There are no shortcuts to the guidelines; they must be followed to maximize the safe return to worship and other church activities in order to 'Do No Harm.'

Music Director Scott Stevenson (Worship Planning Team) described the many changes that would be made and exactly what worship would look like when we do return. He said worshipers will need to make a reservation and we'd be limited to 45 people because the pastor, musician, and ushers count. Worshipers would be ushered to a seat with distancing, wearing a mask at all times. Many things won't happen: there will be no congregational singing, no vocal solos except on video, with live music limited to piano and organ (no wind instruments), and many portions of the service still prerecorded. There will be no Bibles or hymnals, no bulletins, no passing of the peace, no passing the offering plate, no responsive calls to worship or readings in unison of any kind, including the Lord's prayer, and the service will be short. Scott Stevenson also said we can't expect to come back to the worship service as we knew it, and we probably won't be able to for quite a long time – but, this may change future worship for the better.

The Health Team is working through the Absolute Guidelines and Best Practices lists and is close to completing those for Phase 4. For now:

- Church meetings should continue to be done through video conferencing.
- Worship will continue to be provided online for the immediate and long-term future. We can do the most online now.
- The building is still closed with a few exceptions, and anyone who needs to be in the building needs to contact Debbie to schedule a time and must follow proper protocols in the building (masks/distancing/limited area, etc.)
- We are required to keep track of everyone who is in the building from now on.

The presentation was followed by an hour-long question and answer session.

Both the slide presentation and the meeting video are available on our website under "Reach-In" tab.

YOUTH

Contact: Denise Clementz, Youth Ministry Director
denise@genevaumc.org, 309-507-2328

Our current programming will continue into the summer to help keep our students engaged. The youth program has 3 weekly programs currently available online. Watch your email for all youth updates, including weekly Zoom codes, etc.

1) Youth Sunday School on Zoom - Sundays, 11 a.m.

Our sessions will aim for about 40 minutes to connect, learn, and discuss. Please make sure to log in a few minutes before 11 a.m. to make sure the connection loads, and for the leaders to allow you access from the waiting room.

2) Virtual Youth Activity - Sundays, 2:30-3:30 p.m.

We have opened a server for Sunday youth activities for students in 5th-12th grade. Adult leaders are able to stream an interactive set of games. Students will need to watch the stream on computer; and then submit their answers through a phone or tablet. For security reason you must email to receive a code to connect the first time.

For parents who are concerned about their students using on their own, I suggest the parent making an account and joining our server. That way you can allow your student access only during our scheduled gaming times. Families with multiple students in grades 5-12 only need to use one account at a time.

3) Pen and Paper - Saturdays, 6-9 p.m.

Pen and Paper will continue meeting online using the server. You will have to email or contact Darlene to receive a viable code to connect the first time. You are allowed to invite friends, but you must contact either Denise or Darlene first.

Confirmation classes will continue next fall for the current Confirmation students. And, a new class for our next Confirmation students will begin mid-October.

Additionally, we are asking students to still participate in the Sunday 9 a.m. church services by recording videos to be included of them reading Scripture. Please contact Denise if you are interested.

Thank you from the Telomens!

We are so grateful to all who prepared the parsonage house and yard for us after Pastor Esther moved out – you did great work, and we appreciate your ongoing attention to further work that needs to be done to preserve this beautiful house! Many thanks also to those who stocked snacks in our refrigerator, who have brought meals, given gift cards, who have brought flowers and sent greeting cards, and welcoming emails. Your hospitality has been so wonderful, and helped us through the difficult work of packing, unpacking and organizing our space.

We have pretty much organized the living space now, and are enjoying the gardens very much too! The basement will be an ongoing project... as one New Yorker cartoon of two birds building a nest put it: the one bird, with a twig in mouth as it scrutinized the building plan, says to the other: "There's always one annoying piece left over...!" We look forward to putting our leftover pieces to good use as we partner with you all in ministry to the community!
